ROBERT ADAMS ORIGINAL MEDITATION AND ANOINTING OIL

Be As A Flower

"Be as a flower. As a flower unfolds it naturally emits a beautiful fragrance to all" Robert Adams

The personal formulation worn by beloved Robert Adams for decades, recognized lovingly by those in his environment as a soft trail wafting behind him as he entered and exited a room, is once again offered in a limited supply to students. Hand crafted utilizing the original potent essential oils, amid the traditional pure oils of calming almond and sweet pure apricot, the predominant fragrance is reminiscent of the ancient temple holy ambiance, exuding natural pure sandalwood and gentle fresh floral breezes. This rich, potent fragrance contains no chemicals or artificial fragrances. One may dilute the oil in 'carrier' oils for bath, perfume, or diffusers.

A beautiful and ancient tradition utilized as a vehicle of inner upliftment and attunement amid the modern documented benefits of aromatherapy. Well integrated into the spiritual cultures of ancient Egypt, China and India among others, Westerners are well familiar with the holy traditions of frankincense and myrrh in biblical scriptures and Catholic ceremonies. The majority of Hindu/Vedic spiritual ceremonies utilize fragrant incense/oils for pure awareness of the higher realms in attunement to inner unfoldment. The following inquiries may be of further assistance to you in enjoying, utilizing and benefitting daily from this delightful tradition, as utilized by Robert Adams in his daily life.

Q: What are the enhancing qualities of the ingredients of this oil?

A: Several florals, herbs and spices surround the predominant fragrance. Among these, roses are the traditional emanation of love and devotion attributed to originate from the 'astral' or 'lokas'; realms of higher evolvment, spiritually evolved beings, spiritual realization and divine assistance. Sandalwood is considered a sacred spiritual scent, most widely associated with meditation and blessings. Frankincense is attributed to paying divine homage to holy ones, purification of ones thoughts and intentions, and attuning the atmosphere/ambiance and surrounding energies to higher awareness. Sweet almond oil is considered to be one of the most desired spiritual oils for health and beauty, utilized in numerous therapeutic traditions.

Q: How can I utilize this oil in my daily life?

A: "Prepare a beautiful, peaceful place for pondering the dialogues every morning and evening. Use fragrance, perhaps a candle. Use the same area everyday." Many students place the bottle on their meditation table/alter, a place of spiritual practices. The oil may be applied in the traditional area on the forehead between the eyes during meditating, praying, chanting, and the devotions of your faith. It may also be utilized in non- electric oil diffusers.

The fragrance may be worn daily, lightly massaging the hands or arms, or placing in traditional perfume locations on back of neck, behind ear, etc. It may be diluted by adding an oil 'carrier'; i.e. adding additional oil to a separated portion of the meditation oil for bathing or to create a diluted fragrance. It is common in East Indian and tropical cultures for women to apply fragrant oils daily to their hair.

Q: How does the spiritual Master Robert Adams utilize this fragrance?

A: Our beloved sage emanates this beautiful soft fragrance in daily wear and within his private residence and Inner Circle, leaving a loving, uplifting sense of his Presence, familiar to all with him. These pure essential oils 'come alive' in the mixture with ones own skin, creating a personal individual fragrance. The qualities of the primary ingredients have been utilized for spiritual upliftment for centuries. Our spiritual Teacher playfully pressed a small amount of this oil in the center the forehead of students during special occasions and celebrations as observed in films of Inner Circle bhandaras, personal birthday and Christmas feasts and celebrations regularly presented by his beloved wife and himself within his private residence. "Never forget the most important thing, love, compassion and humility. Be humble and gracious. Spread sunshine to all you meet. Always live in honesty, spiritual integrity. Be a light unto others. To the world."

I am a wellness coach and spa therapist. I have been utilizing oils in our spa for eleven years. I must say that this meditation oil is in a completely different category although I cannot quite put my finger on the words...I can tell immediately that it is all natural ingredients of essential oils with no artificial fragrances in it, which has an immediate effect on the nervous system in bargaining the energies of the actual flowers and other ingredients into one's consciousness. The meditational effect is instantly heart opening. I feel the love and refinement of the product. I did not attend the talks of Robert Adams, buy this fragrance and rich quality of oils definitely combines the ancient with the deva land of the flowers. So very special.

I might suggest that if one is moisturizing one's whole forearm or hands for instance, one add a little apricot or sunflower oil for this is a rich, quality potency.

...so I just finished building my home in the hills overlooking the ocean. My wife gave me the anointing oil to bless our house and chapel. There is deep resonance here. I enjoy it very much I inhale it when I wake up. The house has grown into the oil and sweet sandalwood and now we are instantly 'home' when we open the door. I am speaking both literally and metaphorically. This is a wonderful, spiritual and happy home now. I don't believe we will ever stop using it, because it seems to both soothe and create alertness in clear seeing. Thanks.

Love it. It's been 3 years I had to wait though.

Peace to you my online church! I have waited for so long for the oils to be available again! I have given three of the oils as gifts to friends and they are in awe at the entire package. The beauty of your packaging and the vibe is delightful. Please suggest a women's shelter again that I can donate a dozen or so bottles for Christmas. I love helping women get second chances, and Robert Adams is the only spiritual teacher donating to these causes that I am aware of. I think this would be a happy Christmas present for women that have so little to feel special again.

...when I first put the oil on my wrists and forehead it took me straight into a deep loving awareness that confirmed the consciousness that Robert sat in, without trying. The Heart Meditation you included spiritually topped it off as I was so healed and refreshed the forty-five minutes went by when I have never effortlessly felt deep loving meditation and never for more than twenty minutes. You are providing the sacred. If I may humbly ask of your kindness, please keep including Roberts sage heart meditation with the oil in these times to rise into the reality of love, not words but loving kindness in this worldly chaos. The expansion of soothing comfort continued. I put two drops on forehead before sleeping. I awoke sensing a light-hearted happiness I had not felt for years. I had forgotten that there is this quality to life here, as we muddle along without 'smelling the flowers.' Indeed.
